

Dear Expectant Parent,

Hello, and THANK YOU for taking a few moments to learn about us. We are Tom, Kelly and Daniel and we live in Montana in a comfortable, country home on 10 acres with our horses, cats and dogs. We are a fun-loving, "outdoorsy" family that enjoys anything that offers adventure and time together. 🏠 We love to ride horses, play games, go swimming, go camping, go boating, and go exploring.

Tom enjoys watching sports on TV, listening to all types of music, reading suspense novels and he is a golf fanatic! Daniel's favorites include the color red, riding his bike, playing with his friends, playing the Wii, and trying to convince his parents he knows more than us! 😊 Kelly's biggest passion is anything to do with horses. Her other favorites include hanging out with friends, reading, scrapbooking, listening to music and watching "Dancing with the Stars".

God is the center of our home and He has blessed us in many ways. For example, Tom has a steady, well-paying job that has allowed Kelly the freedom to stay home to raise our son. Now that Daniel is in school full time, Kelly keeps busy with volunteer positions and some part-time work. Tom organizes his own schedule for work with his time being divided between his home office and travel.

When we are not working we enjoy being active in and serving at our awesome church, participating in community events and getting together our neighbors and friends.

FAMILY is everything to us. We were raised in close families with siblings to play with. We take turns spending holidays with our families and relatives on both sides. 🏠 Another child would be a sincere blessing to all of us!

When we found out that carrying a baby and giving birth were not safe options for Kelly, we eagerly and happily pursued the option of adoption. We are absolutely convinced that God matched us with Catholic Social Services, our dear birthmother and ultimately, our son. We have an easy and ongoing relationship with members of Daniel's birth family. They attend events such as his birthdays and we get together "just because" so everyone can stay in contact. A CSSM social worker once asked us, "Is there any such thing as too many people to love a child?" The answer, of course, is NO!!! Therefore, the open adoption option is something we are very much in favor of.

Children are God's first and our role is the privilege of raising them to be loving, competent adults. We are very excited to welcome not only a baby into our lives, but their birth family as well. Daniel is very anxious to be a big brother! We would feel honored if you would consider us as adoptive parents. ✝ Sincerely,
Tom, Kelly
and Daniel
