

Dear Expectant Parent(s),

We want to begin by saying thank you. Thank you for taking the time to read this, and for considering such a deeply personal and courageous decision. We can only imagine the emotions you may be carrying right now—love, uncertainty, hope, and perhaps fear. We want you to know that wherever you are in this journey, you are seen, respected, and cared about.

Our hearts are full of love and a deep desire to grow our family through adoption. To us, adoption is not just a path—it is a calling. We believe that every child is a gift, intentionally created and deeply loved. As it says in Psalm 127:3, “Children are a heritage from the Lord, offspring a reward from him.” We hold that truth close, and we would honor your child as the incredible blessing they are.

If you were to choose us, your child would be raised in a home filled with warmth, laughter, and unwavering support. We value kindness, faith, and connection. Our home is a place where scraped knees are comforted, milestones are celebrated, and bedtime stories are never rushed. More than anything, we want a child to feel safe, cherished, and deeply known.

We also want you to know that your role in your child’s story will never be erased. We believe that your love and your decision are part of a beautiful, ongoing story. Romans 8:28 reminds us, “And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose.” We trust that God is present in every step of this journey—for you, for your child, and for us.

We cannot pretend to understand exactly what you are going through, but we respect the strength it takes to even consider adoption. Your love for your child is already evident in the care you are taking with this decision. That love matters. You matter.

If chosen, we promise to raise your child with love, integrity, and faith. We will encourage their dreams, support their growth, and remind them always of how deeply they are loved—not only by us, but by you. We would be honored to share updates, memories, and milestones, if that is something you desire.

Proverbs 3:5–6 says, “Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to him, and he will make your paths straight.” We are trusting in that guidance as we write this to you, believing that whatever decision you make will be the right one for you and your child.

Thank you again for considering us. No matter what you decide, we are praying for you—for peace, clarity, and strength in the days ahead.

With heartfelt gratitude and compassion,

Duane, Lauren, Emily and Annalise
